

Update on our UHMBT improvement work

Our UHMBT Improvement Plan continues to take shape and many of our improvements are now up and running. Delivery of the Improvement Plan will enable us to be assured we are delivering quality, safety and sustainability care to our patients, supporting the wellbeing of colleagues, putting our finances on a sound footing and meeting regulatory requirements.

The improvements have only been possible thanks to the determination and commitment of everyone at the Trust to work together to significantly improve care, services and systems.

We are preparing to launch our new Leadership Programme in the next few weeks, and everyone is welcome to apply to join our Culture Change Team and become a 'Culture Change Champion' for our Trust. More information is available for everyone read on the intranet on this link.

Other highlights

- We have completed the roll out of the 'Badgernet' maternity notes system, which gives mothers more control over their pregnancy records and care notes.
- The First Wave of Clinical Accredited Service Reviews have been completed with wards being awarded Bronze, Silver or Gold Status. This review is part of an ongoing process with a second wave underway with a third to follow.
- 'Digital Solution for Contemporaneous Documentation' will be rolled out by December 2023, which will deliver a single digital record for patients and to also standardise the way of collecting clinical data within the Patient's Electronic Patient Record. This will have a big impact on Quality and Safety for our patients.
- Plans for a seven-day Same Day Emergency Care (SDEC) service at the RLI and Furness General Hospital (FGH) are scheduled to be implemented by April 2023. By August 2022, the 7-day service will exist at RLI.
